

Fountain Valley City Council Unanimously Supports Allan Mansoor
"Sacramento needs more common sense"

Costa Mesa, California – The Mayor and entire Fountain Valley City Council have endorsed Costa Mesa Mayor Allan Mansoor for State Assembly.

"Cities throughout California face the same budget constraints that the State does yet we find a way to balance our budgets and continue to provide services to our citizens," said Mayor Larry Crandall. "It is the know-how we develop that will be instrumental in getting our state budget balanced and our economy moving again. Allan Mansoor has the experience and has been a very effective leader as Mayor of Costa Mesa."

"Sacramento needs more common sense," continued Crandall.

"Each year, the State of California eyes our cities as another source of revenue to fund their reckless spending," said Mansoor. "This forces our cities to make tough decisions that Sacramento refuses to make. I will put an end to this practice and force our government to live with its means."

Mayor Crandall is joined by Council Members Cheryl Brothers, Steve Nagel, John Collins and Guy Carrozzo.

Mansoor is a former Orange County Deputy Sheriff and was first elected Mayor of Costa Mesa in 2005. He is running for State Assembly to cut government spending, reform the way we budget, and cut taxes so that we can create new jobs. "I am very proud to endorse Allan" said Mayor Crandall.
